No Khrush-Mao Split Expected

Envoy Eye Struggle For Red Leadership

LONDON (AP)—Western diplomats here consider that the struggle between Nikita Khrushchev and Mao Tse-tung for the ideological leadership of the Communist world does not mean a split between the Soviet Union and Red China is imminent or even likely. The Kremlin reportedly has put out a secret manifesto to rally support behind Khrushchev's policy of peaceful coexistence. The circular was addressed to Communist party address inside the Soviet Union and the party leaders outside.

A Communist diplomat in London said that Peiping has issued or is preparing a parallel circular setting forth that the West cannot be trusted and that East-West war is inevitable — the dogmatist Leninist line.

The New York Herald Tribune, which first published news of the Soviet circular Thursday, said today that Red China's counterattack, "as outlined in its press and in conversations with foreign diplomats and delegations, has contravened on the line that the Russians were falsely misrepresenting Peiping's view of peaceful coexistence, (and) that the Russians were modern revisionists trying to distort orthodox Leninism which sanctifies 'just wars'."

The Tribune dispatch, from the paper's Washington bureau, said while there have been "hesitations here and there, reports show that the vast majority of Communist parties are swinging behind Moscow's assertion that the Soviet bloc should oppose the use of nuclear war as means of achieving world revolution and that this renunciation is perfectly consistent with Leninism."

The U.S. government is understood to have what seems to be an authentic summary of the Soviet circular.

Safe Cracked At Postoffice In New Holland

Sheriff Charles H. Radcliff and deputies today investigated a burglary and safe cracking job at the New Holland Postoffice.

Sheriff Radcliff said approximately $100 was taken from the safe. He said the 1,000 pound vault was "peeled."

The sheriff said heavy tools apparently were used to "peel" the door open. The building was entered by forcing a rear window.

The entry was discovered early today by Wilbur Frazier of the New Holland Postoffice staff.

Deputy Dwight Radcliff continued the investigation today, along with agents from the London Bureau of Criminal Investigation and Federal Postal authorities from Columbus.

Soviet Athletes Go All-Out For Friendship with Yanks

ROME (AP)—The Russians today advanced their get-friendly campaign to the point of Olympic hand-holding and public cuddling.

It was right down on the athletic field, too.

Blonde Tasia Tchetschik and brunette Vera Ozolina advanced on U. S. high jumper John Thomas, Negro world record holder from Boston University.

"Come," said Tasia in English, "and pose with us."

Thomas—who'd just finished jumping 6 feet 10 in seven practice tries—willingly agreed.

Judges Hear Louisiana's Racial Fuss

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)—A three-judge federal court hears arguments today in two New Orleans suits that seek to explode the state's new arsenal of school segregation laws.

Chief Judge Richard T. Rives of the U. S. 5th Circuit Court of Appeals, who will preside, said the special tribunal would rule "as promptly as possible to avoid any confusion about the opening of schools Sept. 7."

First-grade classes in this city of 620,000 have been ordered integrated this fall.

Despite the federal order, Gov. Jimmie Davis has pledged to keep them segregated. Davis, acting under the new segregation laws, seized control of New Orleans schools last week.

Rives, along with U. S. District Court Judges J. Skelly Wright and Herbert W. Christenberry, will hear suits seeking injunctions to prevent Louisiana from enforcing its school segregation laws.

Attorneys for the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, led by Chief Counsel Thurgood Marshall, and 31 white parents of schoolchildren are asking the court to:

Restrain Davis from preventing the New Orleans School Board from complying with integration plans.

Dissolve a state court injunction stopping the School Board from reclassifying schools from their present segregated status.

Prevent enforcement of 18 state school segregation laws.

The court is hearing the actions together because each presents the same issues.

Woman Hurt In Car Crash

A Columbus woman was injured in a one car accident at 11 p. m. yesterday on Route 56 near Salt Creek School.

The woman was identified as Vera Mills. She was a passenger in an auto driven by her husband, Elza R. Mills, 30.

Sheriff Radcliff said the woman was taken to Grant Hospital.

Deputy John Wolford said the car failed to negotiate a sharp curve just south of Saltcreek School. He said the auto was heavily damaged.

Smaller City Mayors Are Wooed by Kennedy

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Democratic National Committee sought today to build an organization of the mayors of cities of more than 5,000 population to support the Kennedy-Johnson ticket.

Sen. Henry M. Jackson of Washington, addressed letters to the mayors and announced the committee will send them weekly newsletters designed to win and hold their support.

Spunky Nabbed...

the elderly woman to meet her daughter at the door and tell her nothing.

"Is there a man here?" the daughter asked; and the older woman said "No," and went back in the house.

Still concerned, the daughter had John Stahla, brother-in-law of Mrs. Daugherty, go to the house. Stahla, on whose lawn Spunky earlier in the morning had wrecked his car, went inside and sat with the woman while Firman hid behind a door only eight feet away.

Soon another neighbor called by the daughter, Ted Enold, joined Stahla in the house, with Firman still in hiding. Mrs. Daugherty then left with the men, and police arrived moments later.

In an interview at the hospital, Spunky was asked how he managed to lude police for a month and he replied:

"It was mostly my luck and their stupidity."

He showed no concern about his wound and when asked if it hurt said: "I can stand it."

He said he had intended to spend all of today in the Daugherty home and then at night "light out again." He had in mind a woods nearby and said "woods are my specialty."

In his hide-and-seek with police, Firman several times made good his escape with officers hot on his heels by fleeing into rough, wooded country. There was a story making the rounds that he could run six miles at a "dead heat," but Spunky told his interviewer at the hospital he "could do 10."

Wednesday, Firman's companion in crime, Robert Johnson, 22, was captured in Salem after a mile-long auto chase at 80 m.p.h. speeds.

Johnson who the 21-year-old Firman knew from the time they spent in Mansfield Reformatory, was one of three men to break out of the Coshocton County jail with Spunky July 26.

Two gave themselves up a week later, and Johnson was captured Aug. 7 north of Coshocton. But Firman, who was with him, fled in a stolen pickup truck and escaped as sheriff's deputies poured

HOW A GREAT NATIONAL CRISIS IS USED BY GOD TO BRING HIS PEOPLE TO THEIR KNEES IN PRAYER

Scripture—Isaiah 30:5; 86:1-37:20.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

"WOE TO the rebellious children, saith the Lord, that take counsel, but not of Me; and that cover with a covering, but not of My spirit, that they may add sin to sin; that walk to go down into Egypt, and have not asked at My mouth; to strengthen themselves in the strength of Pharaoh, and to trust in the shadow of Egypt!" Therefore shall the strength of Pharaoh be your shame, and the trust in the shadow of Egypt your confounding!—Isaiah 30:1-3.

So was Israel warned by the Lord Himself not to align themselves with Egypt for protection against Sennacherib, who, we are told, reigned over Assyria from 705 to 681 B.C., and was considered the great man of his day.

The people of Israel were afraid of this formidable enemy, but "For thus saith the Lord God, the Holy One of Israel, In returning and rest shall ye be saved; in quietness and in confidence shall be your strength; and ye would not. But ye said, No, for we will flee upon horses; therefore shall ye flee, and we will ride upon the swift, therefore shall they that pursue you be swift!"—Isaiah 30:15-16.

"One thousand shall flee at the rebuke of one; at the rebuke of five shall ye flee; till ye be left as a beacon upon the top of a mountain, and as an ensign on an hill!"—Isaiah 30:17.

"And therefore will the Lord wait, that He may be gracious unto you, and therefore will He

Houston Schools Plan Curb on Negro Teachers

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—No Negro teachers will be assigned to previously all-white schools if integration begins in the Houston Independent School District next month, Richard Jones, personnel director, said today.

Jones pointed out that U.S. District Judge Ben C. Connally's grade-a-year integration order does not require that certain teachers be assigned to certain schools.

The Danger of Military Alliances

HOW A GREAT NATIONAL CRISIS IS USED BY GOD TO BRING HIS PEOPLE TO THEIR KNEES IN PRAYER

Scripture—Isaiah 30:5; 86:1-37:20.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

"WOE TO the rebellious children, saith the Lord, that take counsel, but not of Me; and that cover with a covering, but not of My spirit, that they may add sin to sin; that walk to go down into Egypt, and have not asked at My mouth; to strengthen themselves in the strength of Pharaoh, and to trust in the shadow of Egypt!" Therefore shall the strength of Pharaoh be your shame, and the trust in the shadow of Egypt your confounding!—Isaiah 30:1-3.

High Up Is Now Far Out

Maybe 25 miles up isn't very high any more. The good old words "high up" are giving way to new ones — "far out". But nearly 25 miles up and out, reached by the stub-winged X-15, is the highest that man has ever gone.

Maj. Robert M. White of the U. S. Air Force had no great news to report beyond his own delight with the deep blues of the sky above and the sight of a vaster scope of the big ball than ever a man had seen before.

Yet in man's leaping progress toward space flight every new stage achieved is an excitement. For here is a bit of humanity straining at almost the last barrier to outer space. Behind and below him are the Wright biplane, the Lindbergh plane, the B-29 that bombed Tokyo, the B-52 jet bomber that dropped him at 45,000 feet, even the U-2 high altitude reconnaissance jet.

There is the American major—still earth-bound but less so than any other man that ever lived. For he's riding a rocket. Next, maybe, he'll go to 100 miles up with bigger, more powerful rocket engines in the X-15.

And that is on the edge of the atmosphere and of space. After that, in turn, would come the day when the first man, ascending with no wings at all, is flung into orbit from a pure rocket.

Back again on the big ball, the major has his experiences to add to the record made by his instruments. He has been weightless longer than any other man ever was—and weightless is one of the great challenges to research. Perhaps he cannot qualify as an astronaut by the book. But who on earth has come closer?

No Marching in New Army

Veterans of the U. S. Army who marched through North Africa, Europe or slogged over Pacific islands probably will be reduced to tears. And no one likes to see strong men cry.

They were born too soon. Their Uncle Samuel now is planning an army in which "nobody walks".

The idea originated when Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway was chief of staff. He ordered plans projected for the army of 1965-70. Now it is disclosed those plans call for "every soldier and every piece of equipment" to be "mounted in some sort of vehicle", whether it be an aircraft or something that moves along the ground on wheels.

How To Irk Airline Hostess

NEW YORK (AP) — Remarks that an airline hostess gets tired of hearing:

"Well, looky who's here—the little sister of the Wright brothers!"

"Wake me up when we get to Los Angeles. If we don't get there, don't bother."

"In the old days the hostesses had to be nurses. Now, if you hand 'em a crying baby, they don't know which end to hold up."

"My, miss, I don't see how you whipped up a dinner for 87 people so quick in such a tiny kitchen. Why, it would take me a week."

"If that's the pilot, I've changed my mind. I believe I'll take some

Cost of such an army is estimated at from $2 billion to $3 billion more than now. But its mobility would be great. A division would have "built-in capability to move and fight for 300 miles or three days without replenishment of supplies."

There is an old saying that an army "marches on its stomach." Now presumably the day is coming when soldiers will maneuver on the backs of their laps. But don't jump to the conclusion that an army job is going to be a soft spot with no drilling and hiking to assure Uncle Sam's future army a normal amount of GI gripes.

One way or another, the boys will spend plenty of time on their feet.

insurance after all." "This is my very first flight. Where is my parachute?"

"Would you please tell the driver to take another road? This one's getting awful bumpy."

"I know you gals get a lot of proposals, but I got a three-day layover in Chicago, and I'd love to show you the town."

"Junior gave me his word he wouldn't touch a thing—if you just let him sit in the pilot's lap a while."

"Look, honey, way up here at 30,000 feet how's the government going to know if you poured me a third double bourbon?"

"Flying is so exciting. You never know what city they're going to send your baggage to."

"Those rest room signs are just Greek to me, ma'am. I got thrown out of the one marked 'Femmes.' Is it safe for me to go into the one marked 'Hommies'?"

"All I can say is, if God wanted man to fly, he'd have given him feathers in the first place."

"I wouldn't pinch her if I were married to the copilot."

"What do you mean Boston is fogged in and we'll have to go on to Newark? I made my reservation for Boston weeks ago."

"Honey, if you ever get stranded in Dallas, call me up. With your looks and my credit card we could have a real gasser."

What Is a Celebrity?

I see that the Republicans and Democrats are going in for celebrities. On one side is the distinguished former pugilist from the Jersey side of the Hudson River, Frank Sinatra; on the other side, the distinguished hooper, speaker and public relations counsel, George Murphy.

Among the celebrities are such persons as Dore Schary, Helen Hayes and Ward Bond, but I have not seen Zsa Zsa Gabor on any of these lists nor Marilyn Monroe. They may be neutral or perhaps they belong to splinter parties.

I have often wondered what a celebrity is. There are in this world great men like Winston Churchill or Herbert Hoover; there are good men like Dr. Albert Schweitzer or Dr. Thomas Dooley; there are learned men such as Lord Russell or Dr. James Bryant Conant; but what is a celebrity?

The word would give the impression that it has something to do with being celebrated. But that is ambiguous. It could mean distinguished, renowned, famous or eminent. It might be used for President Eisenhower or for Queen Elizabeth II or Pope John XXIII. It can never mean notorious. It could not refer, for instance, to a person who is the repository of four divorces and a fifth one pending. The proper term for that would be notorious. Nor could it refer to an alcoholic or a lady of the night. The term for the latter is unmentionable. It could not refer to the obscure, the illicit, the trivial.

And yet the word, celebrity, has, in our flexible language, come to have a special meaning. In common parlance, it is someone who belongs to the theater or the motion picture or television industries whose names appear in newspapers often. It is a coined term, like the word, socialite, which refers to a person who is often gossiped about in the gossip columns. Often such persons are noted as eating in restaurants, which is quite natural.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

A CAR FULL of unattached females pulled up at the rim of the Grand Canyon. Evidently the ladies had been driving all night. Full of pep, however, they piled out and one of them rushed over to the iron rail. Then she woke up a dozen guests of the hotel across the road by shouting, "It's all they say it is, girls. Come quick and look. It's open!"

Leopold Godowsky, the late composer, was subject to insomnia. His son, who lived with him until his marriage, was a sound, heavy sleeper. When the father was having a particularly bad night, it was his amiable practice to enter his son's room, shake him vigorously, and exclaim, "What's the matter, my poor boy? Can't you sleep either?"

A housewife, preparing dinner in the kitchen, heard her husband enter the apartment a full hour ahead of his usual time. What she did not know was that he had persuaded his boss to come with him for a "taste of home cooking." Cheerily she called out, "Hi, Snogie, I see old drizzle puss let you sneak off early this evening!"

How To Relieve Prickly Heat

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

It may seem a little late in the season to discuss prickly heat, but I have had several requests to do so.

I didn't go into this subject during June and July because I thought just about everybody knew what to do. Apparently, they don't.

The best way to prevent prickly heat, of course, is to live in an air-conditioned house, work in an air-conditioned office and ride in an air-conditioned vehicle.

Few of us really become very concerned about prickly heat less it is a baby that is tro.

However, even an adult can unfortunately, very few of us can do this.

So it's best to wear light, loose clothing.

Prickly heat develops when you sweat profusely and the sweat ducts become blocked.

Since wearing a hat might tend to make you perspire around the forehead, it might be a good idea to leave your hats at home, unless the head needs some protection from the hot sun.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—Bit by bit the country is seeing the Roman Catholicism of Sen. John F. Kennedy, the Democratic presidential candidate, being made a campaign issue by mail and from pulpit.

This anti-Catholic drive has been spreading rapidly in the South—particularly in Texas and the Carolinas. And one top Democrat told reporters Kennedy's religion may be a greater issue in the Middle West than the farm problem.

Nonpartisan observers also report that the campaign is growing.

Bruce L. Felknor, executive director of the Fair Campaign Practices Committee, said Wednesday: "The circulation of rabidly anti-Catholic material already is many times greater than we have ever seen it. We think at this point there is a substantial danger the campaign in 1960 will be dirtier on the religious issue than it was in 1928."

In that year Roman Catholic Alfred E. Smith was defeated for the presidency by Herbert Hoover after a campaign in which the religious issue was a big one.

Kennedy's advisers are acutely aware of what is happening and are concerned.

His press secretary Pierre Salinger told reporters Wednesday the Democratic organization will create a special section—with branches in every state—to deal with the religious problem.

It will reply to questions as they arise on certain types of anti-Catholic literature being distributed. Salinger said it will supply facts on Kennedy's position on church and state.

Recently two Southern churchmen said in interviews with the Nashville Tennessean that preachers and ministers in their denomination will use their pulpits to oppose Kennedy for president.

One, Dr. Ramsey Pollard, president of the nine-million-member Southern Baptist Convention, said: "Since the Roman Catholic Church is not only a church but a political entity, we feel we are justified in making an attack upon Mr. Kennedy on that basis."

The other, B. C. Goodpasture, editor of the Church of Christ publication, said the Church of Christ is against Kennedy because "he owes his allegiance to the Pope."

On Aug. 20 at Greenville, S.C., the South Carolina conference of the Southern Methodist Church went on record as opposing election of a Roman Catholic to the presidency. It unanimously adopted a resolution saying the Catholic Church has "no line of separation of church and state."

When Kennedy last spring battled Sen. Hubert Humphrey in the West Virginia presidential primary, it was thought anti-Catholicism might ruin him. The Catholic population of that state is less than 5 per cent.

But when Kennedy won overwhelmingly, many observers felt that if he went on to get the Democratic nomination, as he did, his religion might not be much of an issue in the campaign.

This is beginning to look like one of the grand illusions of 1960.

Felknor's Fair Campaign Practices Committee, which is nonpartisan and privately supported, seeks to prevent unfair campaign tactics. Backed by both major parties, it screens questionable material received throughout the country.

Felknor said: "It is becoming much more virulent and overt. What's so disturbing is that so much of this garbage is showing up so much earlier than it habitually does in an election."

He emphasizes there has been no indication that any of the material in question came from responsible Republican quarters.

U.S. Militarists Outline Power

Nation's Strength Labeled Awesome

DETROIT (AP) — The United States' Army, Navy and Air Force have been pictured by their leaders in speeches to the national convention of Veterans of Foreign Wars as awesomely powerful.

Adm. Arleigh A. Burke, chief of naval operations, said that Polaris missile carrying submarines "can zero in with pinpoint accuracy on nearly every major target in Communist territory."

And, Burke added, each of the 16 Polaris missiles carried by a submarine is many times more powerful than the atom bomb dropped on Hiroshima.

Secretary of the Army Wilber M. Brucker said the antimissile Nike Zeus has been successful on each of its six test to date and that its development is ahead of schedule.

Brucker pictured the Nike Zeus as being capable of hitting down an intercontinental ballistic missile coming in at more than 15,000 miles an hour. He said that its ability to destroy actual ballistic missile targets will be demonstrated within the next 18 months in tests from Kwajalein Island in the Pacific.

Air Force Secretary Dudley C. Sharp said America's strategic bomber force "can penetrate any enemy defense" and that the Atlas ballistic missile has been shot 9,000 miles "with great accuracy."

"This is farther than any other missile in the world has gone," he said.

The Air Force also has under development, Sharp said, a 2,100-mile-an-hour bomber, the B70.

Ancient Gregorian Chant Is Studied at Boys Town

BOYS TOWN, Neb. (AP) — Down in the cottages the kids were rocking to a platter by Tommy Sands or snapping their fingers to Bobby Darin's rhythms.

But on the hill, from the open windows of the music hall, drifted some of the Western world's oldest music, the Gregorian chant.

The chant was the focal point for more than 100 men and women from 32 states and Canada who attended Boys Town's annual liturgical music workshop which ended today.

"The chant is the root of Western music," says Roger Wagner, director of the chorale which bears his name and a member of the workshop faculty.

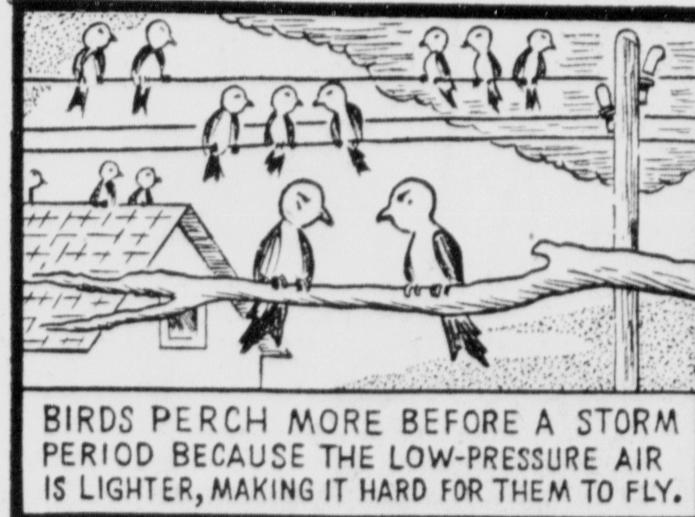

"The chant is the supreme model for good liturgical music," agrees the Rev. Francis Brunner of Grand Rapids, Mich., another faculty member.

In a large measure, the liturgical music of the Catholic Church is the music of the High Mass. Through the ages the chant—which takes its name from Pope Gregory the Great who reigned at the turn of the seventh century—has been the inspiration for the music of the Mass.

The timelessness of the music is emphasized by the setting here. The world of Boys Town, the

New Prison Term Faces Ex-Cincy Aide

CINCINNATI (AP) — Still another prison term confronts Leo Cafferata, 60-year-old former director of Cincinnati's off-street parking program.

A Criminal Court jury Wednesday night convicted Cafferata on six counts of perjury. He previously had been convicted of violation of the conflict of interest laws by accepting a $31,250 real estate agent's commission on sale of a downtown building to the city while he was a municipal employee.

The perjury charges grew out of his testimony before a grand jury investigating circumstances of the sale of the building to the city for a parking garage.

Judge Simon Leis deferred passing sentence until Saturday on Cafferata on the perjury convictions pending filing of motion for a new trial. He could be sentenced to 1 to 10 years in prison on each count.

Dear Abby...

By Abigail VanBuren

Pierce the Gook Barrier

How does a lady act under the circumstances?

DISGUSTED

DEAR DISGUSTED: A lady educates her friends to keep the conversation clean in her presence. She can be subtle, sweet and altogether charming in the way she lets folks know she doesn't "tell 'em" and doesn't care to "hear 'em."

DEAR ABBY: I am 55 and my wife is 47. We've been married 29 years and have children and grandchildren. My wife is a very attractive woman for her age but lately she uses so much gook on her face that I am ashamed to be seen with her. She looks false and cheap and foolish. If a man tried to pick her up while my back was turned I would not blame him for trying. She is a fine lady otherwise. How can I convince her not to put all that stuff on her face? She won't listen to me.

IGNORED

DEAR IGNORED: Women rarely listen to their husbands in matters of make-up—but they should. Enlist the cooperation of a few well-groomed women friends whose opinion your wife respects. Together you might be able to penetrate the gook barrier.

DEAR ABBY: I am no youngster. I am married with a family. We have our social life as other couples do, but I find myself thoroughly disgusted with the company if someone tells a dirty story.

First someone tells a "cute" off-color joke to start the ball rolling. After that they get so filthy I want to disappear.

My husband says it's time I grew up and got over it, but I can't help it. Abby, I have sat through evenings red-faced and tight-lipped. I don't want to break friendships by telling them off.

IN A JAM

DEAR IN: If you love each other and he can support you and you want to get married, get married. Your parents will forgive you in time, no matter what they say now.

CONFIDENTIAL TO D.E.

GO BACK TO SCHOOL AND GRADUATE: An education is a collection of gems that will grow more precious with the years.

If you want a personal reply from Abby, write to her in care of this paper and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope. She answers ALL letters.

AFL-CIO Chiefs Study Political Plans

WASHINGTON (AP): The AFL-CIO called its labor union chiefs together today to decide the 1960 political course of the 14-million-member organization. A ringing endorsement of the Democratic ticket is expected.

Recommendations of the 29-member federation Executive Council will be submitted for consideration by the AFL-CIO General Board, comprised of Representatives of all 135 unions, later today.

The union leaders have been generally enthusiastic, although with some exceptions, about Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts as Democratic presidential nominee. They have not been so enthusiastic about Kennedy's running mate, Senate Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, whom they opposed at the convention in Los Angeles.

Recently, however, Walter Reuther, head of the United Auto Workers and David J. McDonald, United Steel Workers president, made pilgrimages to Kennedy's summer place at Hyannis Port, Mass., and came away completely favoring, they said, the Kennedy-Johnson ticket.

Ohio Mental Clinic Training Chief Named

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP): A doctor who received his psychiatric training at an Ohio mental hospital will take charge of training for all the state's mental institutions in the near future.

He is William P. Addison, 51, presently assistant superintendent of Columbus State Hospital. He becomes an assistant commissioner of mental hygiene Oct. 15 at a salary of $21,000 a year.

It is the first time an assistant commissioner has been assigned to handle training and research. Dr. Henry Luidens, mental hygiene commissioner, said. The Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction hopes more of the institutions can qualify for residency programs in psychiatry, because doctors trained in this manner frequently remain with the state system.

Because specially trained physicians often can command more money in private practice, and because there is fierce competition among the states for their talents, Ohio is hard-pressed to find physicians for its mental health program.

The commissioner explained, however, that Dr. Addison's responsibilities will extend from graduate training of psychiatrists in residency to orientation and training of new employees at ward level.

A native of Louisiana, Dr. Addison has been with the Ohio Department since 1951, and received his psychiatric training at what is now Cleveland Psychiatric Institute. A graduate of Tulane Medical School, he also studied at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Massachusetts General Hospital and Langley Porter Clinic in San Francisco.

Steel Upturn Delay Casts New Shadow

Nation's Economy To Feel Effects of Lack of Demand

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—The delay in the expected upturn in steel output is casting a shadow over the fall outlook for the general economy.

Business is used by now to the ups and downs in the steel industry. But when one of the ups doesn't come along on schedule, business gets nervous.

That's because steel has the name of being the basic industry. It lags when other industries lose their zip. And if it lag too long, pessimism tends to spread to other lines.

The steel mills were first expected to be firing up idle furnaces by now for the fall business revival. Then September was set as the time for the upswing. Now steel spokesmen talk of October. And one close observer of the industry says only a mild seasonal upturn can be expected this fall, with the big turnaround delayed until next spring.

Why isn't steel pulling out of its summer slump?

There are both current and long term answers.

The one most applied to the current scene is that steel customers either have more steel still in stock than the industry had counted on, or their own products are moving too slowly for them to expand output now.

Added to this is their knowledge that steel is in good supply. Idle capacity means that any rush of orders could be filled without undue delays and therefore a hand-to-mouth steel inventory policy can continue.

Steel's best customer, the auto industry, hasn't put in the steel orders expected. Stocks of materials seem to be large. Also the stocks of 1960 cars in dealers' hands is well above this time last year.

Worse, from the steel point of view, is that the big swing to compact cars has meant less buying of steel. The smaller cars take less, and as the percentage of these cars to total auto output grows, steel orders shrink.

Some of steel's problems are long term, as apart from the present cycle which has been downgrade since late winter.

Total production capacity continues to rise. It is well above present needs, and many think it may be above the needs that the next big business upswing will generate—but not above the level that would be needed in a national emergency.

And a growing problem is competition from other materials. Cars are using more plastics, aluminum and glass. Buildings are using more concrete, glass, aluminum and plastics. Tin coated steel cans vie with glass, paper, foil, plastic bottles, squeeze tubes in sharing the food industry business.

Church To Meet In Track Barroom

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—A newly organized, suburban United Lutheran church couldn't find other temporary quarters—so it will meet in a race track's clubhouse barroom.

The first services will be held at the Los Alamitos race track Sunday, Sept. 18.

"I admit this is highly unusual as a starting place for our church," said the Rev. H. Carl Roessler, pastor of the new congregation.

But it was use the race track facilities or nothing, Roessler said. He said 100 to 150 families have indicated interest in joining the church.

Rail Union OKs Parley With Pennsy

WASHINGTON (AP)—One of two union groups threatening a strike against the Pennsylvania Railroad has accepted a call for continuous bargaining sessions, but on its own terms.

The National Mediation Board issued the call for the sessions to begin today in Philadelphia in an effort to avoid the strike set for Sept. 1.

The railroad promptly said it would cooperate fully.

The Transport Workers Union agreed to the meetings, but said the sessions would be in New York and start next Monday. It gave no explanation of its desire to change the place and date of the strike.

The AFL-CIO Railroad Employes Department, the second workers group involved, did not make an immediate reply.

The TWU's stand was announced Wednesday night in New York by its president, Michael J. Quill.

Quill's union and the AFL-CIO group claim to represent one-third of the Pennsy's 75,000 employees.

They broke off further negotiations earlier this month over a three-year work rules dispute.

The strike threat stems from union demands that much of maintenance work performed for the road by outside sources be done by its employees. The railroad says it would lose important managerial rights if it acceded.

His operator's license was suspended for 30 days. Fine and costs were suspended.

The arrest was made by city police.

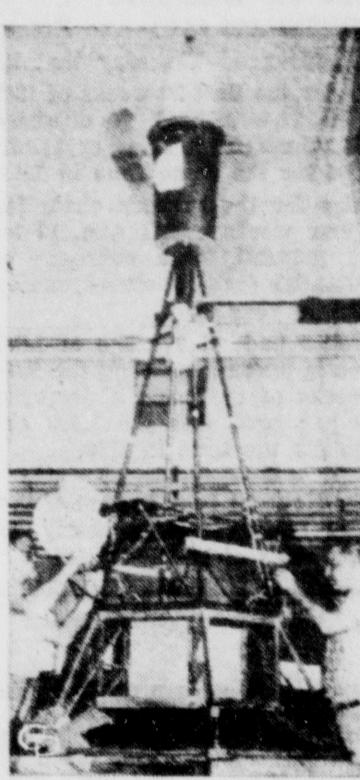

Richard A. Hook, 16, Williamson, was arrested by the State Highway Patrol for speeding on Route 23. Hook was driving 75 miles per hour in a 50-mile-per-hour zone. His operator's license was suspended for 30 days.

Hamilton Plans Vote On New Council Setup

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—Hamilton residents will vote in the November election on whether to retain the proportional representation system of electing city councilmen. Miss Adele Edmonds, clerk of City Council, said there were sufficient petitioners to have the issue put on the ballot.

The City Council is expected to certify the proposal to the County Board of Election commissioners at a meeting Monday.

The United Nations occupied its permanent headquarters building in New York in the spring of 1951.

Puerto Rican Prospects as Fake Dentist

NEW YORK (AP)—Ramon Falcon was having a long, hard pull trying to support his wife and three children. So he decided to become a dentist.

It all came out in court Thursday when Falcon, 42, was charged with practicing dentistry without a license, a misdemeanor.

Falcon came here from Puerto Rico eight years ago and became a dental mechanic. He made only $75 a week.

Last year he purchased some second-hand dental equipment and converted the living room of his Brooklyn apartment into a "dentist's" office. His income went up to $10,000 a year.

Most of his patients appeared to have been satisfied. However, Carmen Domingo, 35, of Brooklyn, had several teeth extracted and some bridgework installed, which she said fitted poorly. She went to the district attorney's office.

In East New York Court Magistrate Raymond Tierney held Falcon in $500 bail pending a hearing next Monday.

Commented Falcon: "I don't know why anybody should have complained. People around here have been getting their work done cheaply."

Ike Books Political Speech for Sept. 29

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower will make his first political speech of the campaign to the builders of Polaris-firing nuclear submarines.

They were met with peaceful, but effective, resistance.

Four members of the Committee for Nonviolent Action, a pacifist group opposed to construction of the Polaris submarines, tied up their rowboat at a dock of the Electric Boat Division of General Dynamics Corp.

The submarine builders were prepared for the heralded invasion. Each of the pacifists was greeted by two waiting security guards, were placed in station wagons and briskly ushered outside the main gate.

Officials at Electric Boat said they would take no further action against the demonstrators.

I Thought that I Would Never See That Many Guys for Just One Tree

LOS ANGELES (AP)—I thought that I would never see that many guys just for one tree.

A treeplant planted to replace one they claim I did deface.

A tree worth but a buck or two to plant needs not a 10-man crew;

So if they want a C from me they'll have to plant a bigger tree.

That, poetically paraphrasing rubbish collector Tony Augustyn, is the way he feels today about a $108.64 bill he got from the county for replacement of a tree damaged by one of his trash trucks.

He's not going to let a sapling make a sap of him, says Tony. And county tree trimmers aren't going to trim him.

In short, he's not paying.

The county replaced the damaged 18-foot eucalyptus with a sapling pepper tree. Tony got the bill.

"To cover cost of removal and replacement of parkway tree knocked down at 5445 W. 118th S." it read.

Large Windows Damaged

Karl Mason of Mason's Furniture N. Court St., told local police yesterday that three large plate glass windows were damaged, apparently by B-B guns. Patrolman William Brungs investigated.

Fair Barn Entered

William Cook, Pickaway County Agriculture Society secretary, informed police yesterday a barn at the Fairgrounds was broken into and that a 100-foot piece of rope was taken, apparently by juveniles.

Pepper, then a costly spice, was used frequently as money during the Middle Ages.

Mack Sennett Backs Chaplin

Comic's Name Missing From 'Walk of Fame'

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP) — Film pioneer Mack Sennett adds his distinguished voice to those who believe the name of Charlie Chaplin should be added to Hollywood's Walk of Fame.

The comic is missing from the 1,500 brass plates being embedded in the sidewalk of Hollywood boulevard. The reason is that merchants footing the bill object to Chaplin's politics.

"That's ridiculous," snapped Sennett, who can still rumble up a storm at 76. "This is a matter of art, not politics. Charlie was the greatest comedian we ever had on the screen. I might add that I don't know anything about his politics. I'm not a Communist; I'm an Irish Catholic."

It was Sennett who brought Chaplin to the screen. He was reminiscing about it out at Motion Picture Country Hospital, where he's trying to push his blood pressure up after a siege of illness.

"I saw him in New York in an act called Karno's Comedians," Mack recalled. "He played the drunk in the box who climbed on the stage and got into the act. I said, 'That guy is funny. He makes me laugh.'"

Later, when Ford Sterling went on to greener pastures, leaving Sennett without a comedian for his Keystone company, he sent for the English comic, whose name he sketchily remembered. Chaplin was reached on tour in Pennsylvania and signed for $125 a week.

After two duds, Chaplin caught on in "A Day at the Races." Sennett offered him a share of his profits, but the comic left after one year for Essanay Studios at $10,000 a week. The two men remained good friends through the years.

Orioles Poised For Leap if Yanks Falter

Baltimore Claims Second Place on Eve Of Tell-Tale Weekend

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Baltimore Orioles, a joke choice for the pennant in the spring, are just a game shy of the top today, ready to take over if the New York Yankees can't make it through a make-or-break weekend in the American League race.

The Orioles beat Detroit 9-3

Thursday night and took sole pos session of second place. Chuck

Estrada pitched a five-hitter and

Gus Triandos hit his second grand-slam home run of the week.

New York and the defending champion Chicago White Sox, who fell out of a second-place tie, were idle.

Washington took over fourth place, whipping Kansas City 9-0 behind the four-hitter pitching of

Chuck Stobbs and Ray Moore,

after Boston dropped Cleveland to fifth by slugging the Indians

10-7.

Triandos, troubled by injury

most of the season, cracked a 3-3 tie and triggered a six-run eighth inning for the Orioles against right-hander Frank Lary (11-13).

It was the fifth slam of Triandos' career.

A couple of guys who won't quit,

Ted Williams and Vic Wertz, did it for the Red Sox. Williams, five days shy of his 42nd birthday, dove in three runs, two with his 24th home run, the 516th of his career, in the third inning. Then

Wertz boomed the Sox from behind a pinch-hit grand slam in the fourth off loser Don New-combe (1-3).

The Senators nursing a 1-lead, broke loose for eight runs in the seventh against the A's. Five walks hit batter and five single did it.

Del Crandall a catcher who hadn't hit a home run with a man on base all season, and Gene

Hobbie, a pitcher who hadn't hit a home run at all, have whittled

Pittsburgh's National League lead to 6-1 games once more.

After swatting 16 solo home runs, Crandall connected for a two-run shot that clinched a 4-2 victory for second-place Milwaukee at Los Angeles Thursday night.

The Chicago Cubs trimmed the Pirates 2-1 on Hobbie's two-out homer in the ninth, his first in a four-year major league career.

Youths Hunt Auto, Break Up Robbery

TRUMBULL, Conn. (AP)—Two Bridgeport youths, looking for their missing automobile Wednesday, not only found the vehicle but, police said, they also broke up a bank holdup plan.

Anthony Cavalieri, owner of the car, and Warren Jacques, both 19, found the car in the parking lot at the Trumbull shopping center, about a mile and a half from where they had parked it before going off to summer school in New Haven.

Seated in the car was John Voss, 48, who, police said, had planned for six months to rob a branch of the Connecticut National Bank which is located in the shopping center.

While Jacques went to telephone police, Cavalieri dragged Voss from the car and they started to scuffle. Police said Voss pulled a loaded revolver. Jacques returned to the scene and joined the battle.

During the five-minute struggle which followed, the weapon was discharged once but nobody was shot. Police arrived and arrested Voss on charges of attempted assault with a dangerous weapon and thefts of motor vehicles. He was held in bonds of $10,000.

EVERY ANGLE! HOW CAN KROLL
HURT ME WITH THE PROCESS
WE'RE WORKING OUT WITH HIM? AND YOU TELL ME HE'S TRYING FOR A NEW START IN LIFE...

YES... AND I'D LIKE TO SEE
